Still Drove At 93, Wilton Resident Dies

A Wilton resident, who would have been 94 on April 1, Harry W. Caton died at the Hillcrest Nursing Home in Napanee on Tuesday, March 23.

He had been in failing health for some time and entered the nursing home, only a few weeks ago.

His parents, with his brother and sisters moved to Buffalo in 1912, but he stayed with his grandmother, at their home on "Clarke and Caton" street, southeast of Odessa.

He was a captain in the Fourth Hussars, B. Squadron, of Toronto in 1902.

He married the former Florence Yeomans of Newburgh, who predeceased him in 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Caton moved to Wilton in the late 1940's.

Mr. Caton started driving a car in 1921 and had driven it continuously ever since. He was very proud of his cars, and took the best of care of them, including "not driving too fast".

His funeral took place at the Wartman Funeral Home in Napanee, on Thursday, March 25, with interment at Wilton Cemetery.

Kinetic energy is due to motion.

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

I was absolutely thrilled when I opened your letter to-day, and can't thank you enough times for sending the chart on the Caton's. I truly appreciate it, as I had no idea at all of any relations beyond Miles Caton.

Last summer we had been down to the Riverside cemetery and I had copied those inscriptions, but I didn't know that they were my direct ancestors.

Thank you so much for your kindness , and helping me find the missing links.

Many, Many Thanks,

Catherine Belan

CATON

March 8, 1976

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

Thank you so much for your last letter and your Percy chart which I find very fascinating and interesting. I have delayed answering your letter as I had hoped to get down to the Archives and do some research to find out more about the Caton's, but I haven't been able to yet, as I have 2 small children at home, and can't get a babysitter in the daytime.

Your chart is truly fascinating, and I am interested in your two Andersons, as there are other Anderson connections to Roblins, and I'm intrigued how many cousins married cousins and how closely related so many of those early families were. I can see how you must have a wealth of information if you have been working on your tree for long.

I am enclosing my chart, as much as I know, most of which is from our Caton family bible, and from Mrs. Eulla Lapp, who gave me most of the early information on Roblins and Detlors.

I am so sorry you feel a lack of energy, I would dearly love to attend some of the Kingston meetings, to meet you, as I would thoroughly enjoy chatting with you. I wish I was closer and offer my assistance. I look forward to reading your books. I have ordered "Loyalist Graves..." but they are sold out.

I do appreciate your kindness and effort in answering my letters.

Sincerely,

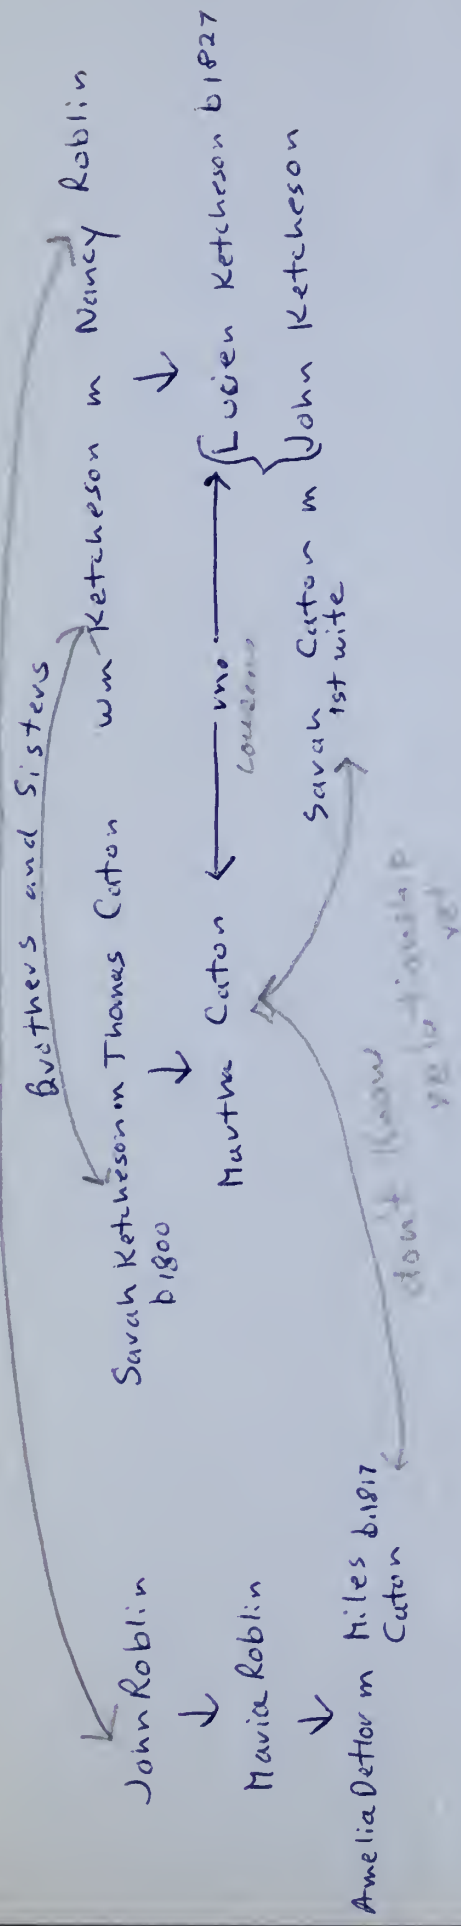

Catherine Behan

Dear Reader:

The enclosed copy of the 1973 issue of the Commission's magazine Human Relations was faultily handled by our mailing house and did not reach many persons and organizations for which it was intended.

The subject matter, concerning the Commission's community relations program, remains valid. Indeed the evolution of intergroup relations in the Ontario community in the last two years makes it more relevant than ever that the Commission's community relations role be known as widely as possible.

For these reasons I now send you a copy. If you have already received one, please excuse the unavoidable duplication. Additional copies are available upon request. Any reactions which you might care to share with us would be appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

I have recently joined the Ontario Genealogical Society, and wish to join your branch also, for which I am enclosing the $2.00 fee.

I am beginning to trace the history of my ancestors who lived in Richmond and Sheffield Townships- L&A Co., Miles Caton, married to Amelia Ann Detlor, their son, George Caton, married to Katherine Normile.

From the O.G.S. Directory of Surnames, I understand that there is a member already listed as searching the Deltors of Napanee, but their name and address is not included in the membership addition lists that I received. Their number is L-605, and I would truly appreciate it if you knew or another member would know who this person is, as I would like to contact them.

I am most interested in receiving your newsletters for this year, and any back issues that are available, and would reimburse you for any cost.

Would any of your members know where there are cemeteries outside of Napanee that would have a lot of Caton's, Detlor's or Normiles buried in? On a recent trip to Napanee, I visited the four cemeteries in the town and was unable to find any. I recall visiting a cemetery about 10 years ago that had many Caton's, death dates in the 1700's. Would their stones have been moved or vandalized?

Looking forward to being a member of your branch, and receiving news of your activities,

Mrs. Bird 29 Jan Identifies 1975- Catons In Picture

The Caton family picture which appeared in The Napanee Beaver has been further identified by Mrs. S. W. (Lenna) Bird, of Belleville, who writes to say that the picture was probably taken around 1903 and the group includes Harry Caton, now approximately 83 and living at Wilton, Mrs. Bird says, and the twin girls, Beatrice and Blanche, she believes are now dead.

Their parents were Mr. and Mrs. William Caton (the mother's name was Frances) and they left Ontario after the children were born and moved to Buffalo, NY. Harry Caton did not go with them but stayed with his uncle, Arch Caton, in Odessa, near what is now the Murray Clarke farm, Mrs. Bird believes, and she says she thinks the family came from Bath.

"The family would visit relatives in Odessa every summer and stayed with Mr. and Mrs. William Clark, parents of James Clark and Willanna Clark, both still living in Odessa. The Clarks and Catons are first cousins and Willanna Clark is my first cousin," Mrs. Bird says.

James Clark was long associated with the municipal life of Ernestown Township and Miss Willanna Clark is Odessa correspondent for The Napanee Beaver. Mrs. Bird identifies the others in the picture as Clare Caton, and Frank and Jim Caton.

THE NAPANEE BEAVER

THIS PHOTO appeared in the Jan. 8 issue of The Napanee Beaver but those in it were unidentified except that it was believed they were members of the Caton family of the Odessa area. Lewis Babcock, of Odessa, has confirmed this and identifies them as Harry Caton, right, who lives in Wilton, and his brothers and sisters, now dead. They are James Caton, left, and Beatrice, between her two brothers; and seated in front are Beatrice's twin sister, Blanche, at left; Frank Caton and another sister, Clara, right.

In Loving Memory

UEENS — In loving memory of a dear husband and father Arch H. Uens who passed away Jan. 23, 1969.
Sadly missed along life's way,
Quietly remembered everyday.
No longer in our lives to share
But in our hearts forever there.
Always remembered by his wife and family. 4ap

HANNAH — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Maitland Roy Hannah who passed away suddenly January 21, 1972.
Three years have passed and still we weep

Time does not seem to heal,
The lonely hours, the missing smile,
The heartaches that we feel.
Three years have passed, life's not the same,
We miss him more each day,
The sunshine of our lives he took,
The day he went away.
If you have a son or brother
Cherish him with loving care,
For you'll never know just what he's worth
Till he's no longer there.

Sadly missed and always remembered by Dad, Mom, sisters Karen, Connie and brother-in-law Paul. 4ap

Dear Doctor

Enclosing copy of the CATON family insofar as I have been able to dig it up

Should you find time on your hands (?) to spare, you might be able, by referring to the CLARK families of Ernesttown to fill in a few of the missing items connecting the Caton & Clark families.

Oh yes, there also is another on page 4, viz., John Rose of Bath, a daughter Margaret Rose who is supposed to be still living in Bath.

Sorry that my carbons are petering out and this copy is not too good. Anyway it is just possible that someday the info might become useful to you

With kindest regards to Mrs Burleigh and your good self, from Mrs Young and,

Claude Young

THE CATON FAMILY
In Upper Canada

The compiler of this incomplete genealogical record of the CATON family became sufficiently interested because of two factors: (1) that as a teenager in Toronto, Ontario I will recall many pleasant hours spent with a companion of like age, Harry Wellington Caton (now resident of Milton, Ont.) while our parents visited in either their farm home just west of Kingston, or in our home in that city; (2) while carrying on research into the Kitcheson family with which I am related, I discovered inter-marriage with the Catons.

For the information I have succeeded in preparing for this paper, I am indebted to several very fine people. A letter addressed to a brother of Harry Caton who lived in Buffalo has recently been answered by a daughter, with the explanation for delay caused through serious illness and death of her father. The data sent with her letter has been most helpful, and appreciated. Closer to home came help from Mrs Ida May Caton (ontemporary prior to her untimely death last year. From Mr. H.C. Burleigh of Bath came much valuable information, obtained from the very extensive genealogical reference library he maintains. And also from Harry Caton, my old time friend and playmate, who lives with the memories of happier days of earlier days, has been very much assistance.

From a great, great, grandson of the first Robert Caton on record as coming to America from Ireland, settling for a time in Maryland, later moving to and establishing a large plantation in Virginia I am indebted for the following: "The name Caton in the Shenandoah look is spelt Catun and Catwa. Other variable spellings in ancient manuscripts have been Catton; deCaton, Caton, Caton, deCaton, deCaton, Payton. Before the original ancestors used a 'de' before the surname indicated their connection with the nobility of older days. The Catons of Ireland were descended from Catons who went from England to Ireland with the 'English' knights when the conquest of Ireland was first achieved about 1166. Two brothers, John and Robert Jr., are veterans of the Revolutionary war, and following the conflict they settled in Orange county, N.Y. Later Robert Jr., became a Quaker minister, going to reside at Monroe, Orange county, about the year 1766." Robert Caton, Jr., was the great, great, grandfather of the late Louis H. Caton who made his home at Batavia, N.Y., and his later years to an extensive research into the genealogical records of his family.

Coming now to Upper Canada I shall set down all the facts that have been obtained up to this time, principally with the hope that this paper will meet the eyes of some descendants of the Canadian settlers who have, or can readily obtain, additional facts that could bring this record to a more complete state.

It would appear that two brothers, William Caton and John (Payson) Caton with their wives and children, arrived in the Kingston district around 1784-1785. Another, Patrick Caton is known to have come from New Brunswick later on.

Baptismal records at Bath (Knoxtown Np) show John, Abby, Mary, and Hannah on 31st December 1797; George on 2nd May 1798; Oliver, James and William on 14th March 1799 (at Robert's Island), all being children of William Caton and his wife Hannah _____.

In the Milton Cemetery is a stone recording burial of William Caton 1770-1867 and his wife Rebecca Jane 1788-1865

The Parish Register of St George's Cathedral in Kingston records the burial of John Keyton on the 8th of January 1795;

The Land Books of Ontario record that Margaret Caton (widow of the deceased John Caton of Kingston) applied for a land grant, under order-in-Council on the 25th of July 1797 was granted 450 acres in the second concession of Elizabethtown.

In the old Switzerville (South of Edinburgh) churchyard is a stone reading, Margaret Caton, died 10th February 1839, aged 66 years;

Nearby another recording burial of her son Archibald, his wife Mary McIlm and their son Thomas.

It has been the general belief that John (Caton) Caton and his wife Margaret had a family of seven children but no confirmation is available. In addition to the son Archibald mentioned above, there also exists a record that Margaret died to her eldest son Thomas, lot 30, Con. 2, Elizabethtown on the 14th of October 1814. The record served in the Adington Militia and during the period of 1814-1824 was a Sergeant in "A" Company thereof.

We feel certain this is the same Thomas Caton who married Sarah Hetcheson of Sidney township. He died on the above farm in 1838, four years following death of his wife.

Beyond the foregoing facts generally regarded as approximately correct, together with the record of descendants hereinafter set down, we cannot say definitely more about the origin of any of these descendants, and we most certainly would appreciate any information that would enable us to do so.

On Parking

The Retail Merchants' Committee of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will present a brief soon to the board of works asking for action on Kingston's downtown parking problem.

The recommendation was tabled at a meeting of the retail merchants yesterday. The brief is the work of a sub-committee of the merchants, headed by President-elect, R. M. Bruce. It will ask that an authority be formed by city council as a funded agency for the specific treatment of parking problems.

Mr. Bruce got opposition to the plan from William Weller, who pointed out to members of the committee that city council could be slow moving on such a problem and he felt there was need for a concrete recommendation.
City council, he said, must be made to feel that the merchants are pushing hard on this question.

In reply, Mr. Bruce said, "I object to the idea of submitting recommendations so detailed that they hamstring council in efforts to improve parking."

Asked if the council would

thority to handle parking

The caves, Nixon found, apparently were used as dressing stations during the battle. They were full of equipment, presumably removed from casualties.

Assigned with Pte. Robert Sproule of Lavant Station, Ont., as daytime outpost patrol, Nixon remembered that two nights before a patrol had lost some equipment in the area. Looking for it, he found the body of a Chinese officer, the hand grasping a bugle,
and saw a cave nearby.

Nixon told The Canadian Press:
"There were piles of bloodied bandages in them, and a tremendous amount of gear. There were shell dressings, hundreds of grenades, burp-gun magazines, bloodied winter coats, and there were even Canadian-manufactured Bren guns and rifles."

After reporting his discovery

Nixon made two trips back to the caves for gear useful to intelligence officers. Sproule covered him from their outpost.

Then Lt.-Col. Peter Bingham,
commanding the 1st Battalion, R.C.R., asked over the telephone whether Nixon thought it possible to blow in the tunnels. He said yes and volunteered to lead out a party that night to do it.

Knowing that he would be questioned closely, Nixon returned to the caves a third time, examined their lay-out carefully and drew a map.

Later, at Bingham's command post, Nixon heard the C.O. brief the officer who was to lead the demolition patrol, Lieut. E. Gibson Bauld of Halifax.

While Sproule led out the fighting element of a patrol, commanded by Cpl. James Dobie of Petawawa, Ont., and helped screen off the area, Nixon guided Bauld's Pioneers. He checked the caves, waited for the Pioneers to lay their charges, and then led them back along a short-cut into the main position.

By Frederick C. PIERCE of Chicago as in THE REPUBLICAN, Springfield, Mass., Nov. 3. 1901

The acknowledged head of the English house of Field is Roger del Feld of Sowerby, who was born in 1240, and from him descended John, the astronomer who is the head of the American branches. Mr Pierce has not made clear the first comings of the family to this country, but Robert, who was born in 1605 in England, crossed the sea sometime between 1620 and 1640, settled in Rhode Island, and later founded the Flushing (L.I.) family of Fields. In 1636 a branch came to Massachusetts and Connecticut from England, and one Zachariah settled in Hartford, and then moved up the valley with his family, and helped settle Deerfield and Northampton. From this branch descended William Howland, who died in 1880, and was one of the trustees of Amherst College, and his son, George, one of the best superintendents of schools that ever served the city of Chicago. In treating the Fields of Deerfield the author has seen fit to reprint "Deerfield's Romance," by Mary field, from THE REPUBLICAN. Other well known members of this branch of the family are John Foster Bass, the war correspondent, and Joanna L. CATON, now the wife of General Wesley Merritt. Turning back to the Revolution again, Colonel David Field of Hatfield, who was born in 1716, is a prominent figure in the family, and from him are descended the large Dixon family of Enfield, Conn., who owned the old Enfield bridge, and Chief Justice David J. Brewer. The soldier blood came down through the Field veins from 1776 to 1898, and again a Field is in the line of battle in the person of Lieutenant Charles H. Field of Greenfield, who was killed at El Caney while fighting with his company of the Second Massachusetts.

When a person is endeavouring to work out the genealogy of any of our pioneer ancestors, and runs into a dead-end, it becomes necessary to contact as many descendants as possible in the hope of securing authentic information

Harry Caton of Wilton has been very kind and quite helpful but after all when one reaches our age, memory is not too reliable.

Attached are sheets covering parts of two branches of the Caton family. On number one sheet are the meagre details developed on the original John Caton family of three, Thomas, Archibald and Sarah(3)

Sarah Caton, who married Rev. Samuel B. Rose, eldest daughter Margaret married John Caton, whose son William Stewart Caton was the father of Harry W. Caton. But my problem is to find out names and years of birth and death of the parents of said John Caton

As Thomas Caton (sheet number three) married Sarah Ketcheson this brought my research into that old family. Thomas and Sarah had a family of six. We have been unable to locate much information on any of this family except the youngest, Martha.

But we have a feeling that the eldest, William Caton may have been the father of William Frederick Caton 1861-1935 who married Emmeline Baragar, daughter of Martha Caton and Jacob Baragar. If I am right on this, then the data (years of birth and death and name of his spouse) should not be too difficult to locate. And from there it might not be too hard to trace down the other members of the family

My reason for also writing Mrs Humphrey of Selby is I am informed she was a daughter of John Aylesworth 1855- and Mary Jane Clark grand-~~Sarah~~, daughter of Charles A. Caton 1827-1881 and Elizabeth K. Queensbury 1827-1906. Here once again I am at sea, in not knowing whose son was Charles A. Caton. And more details of the Richard Clark family into which Mary Jane Caton married.

Any assistance you can give will be very much appreciated.

Very sincerely, yours

E. Claude Young
